

NEWS

OPINION

THE EYE

PHOTO

DESIGN

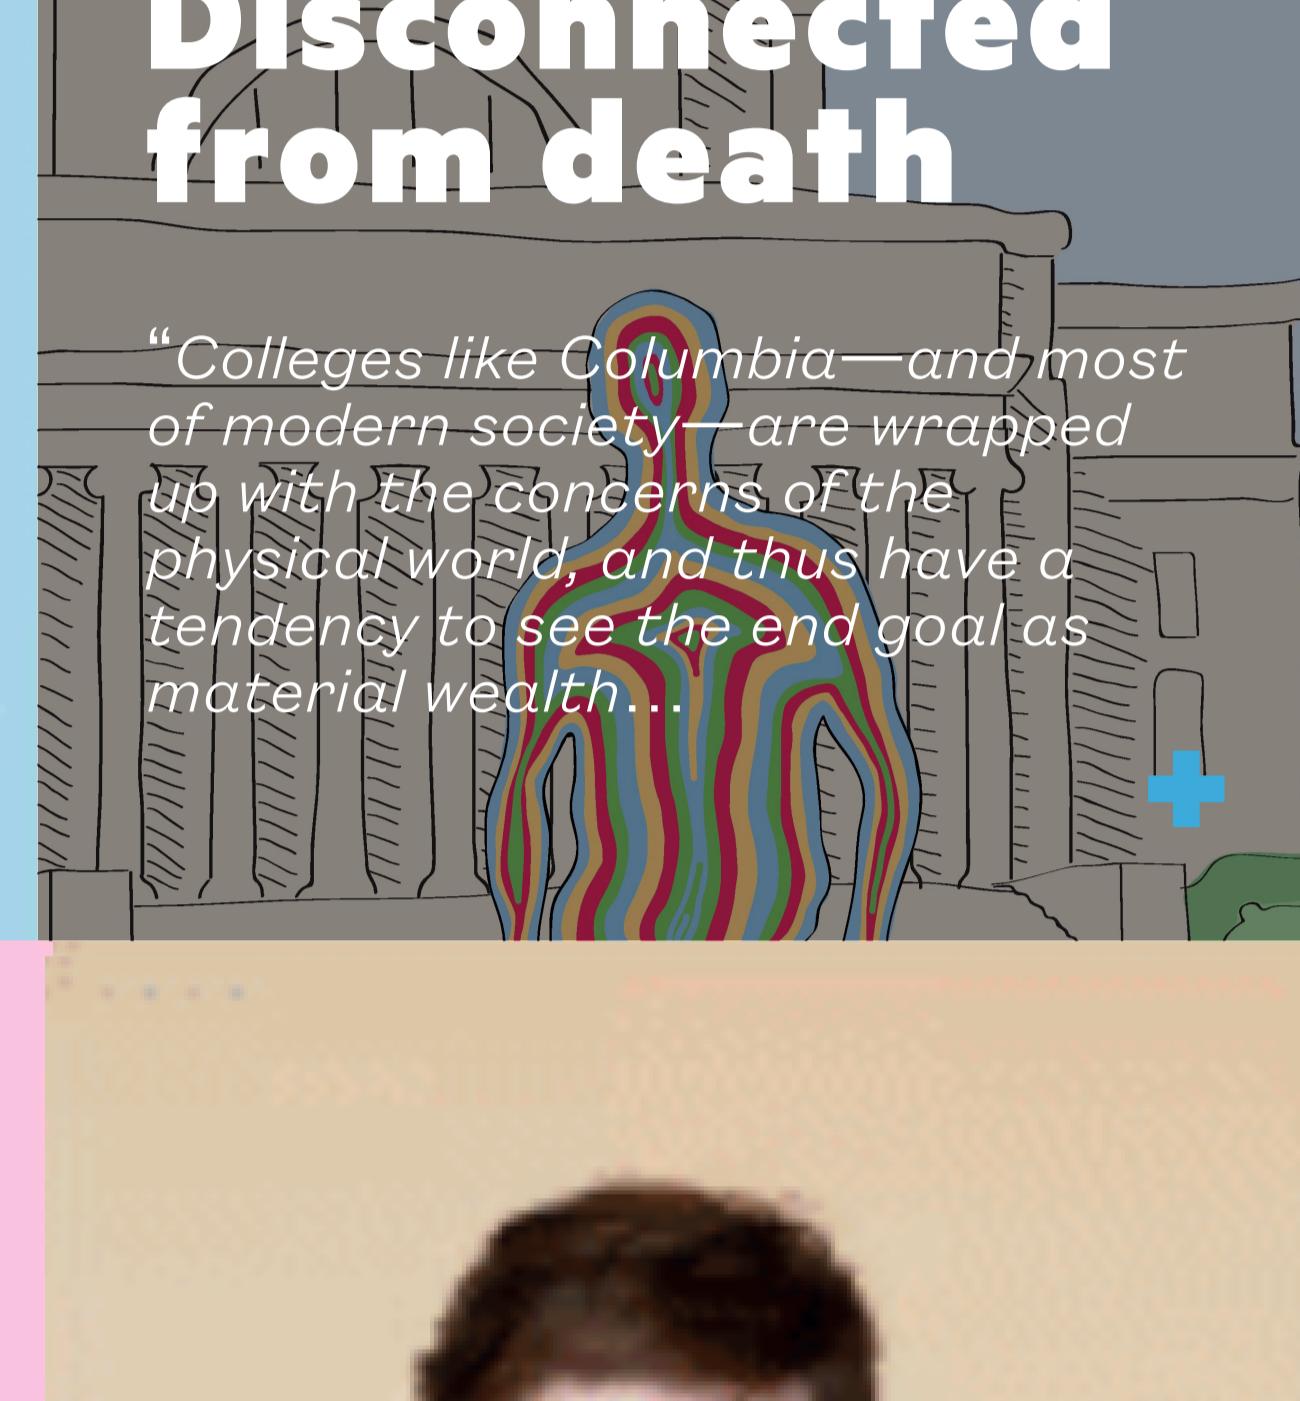

SPORTS

A&E

COLUMNS

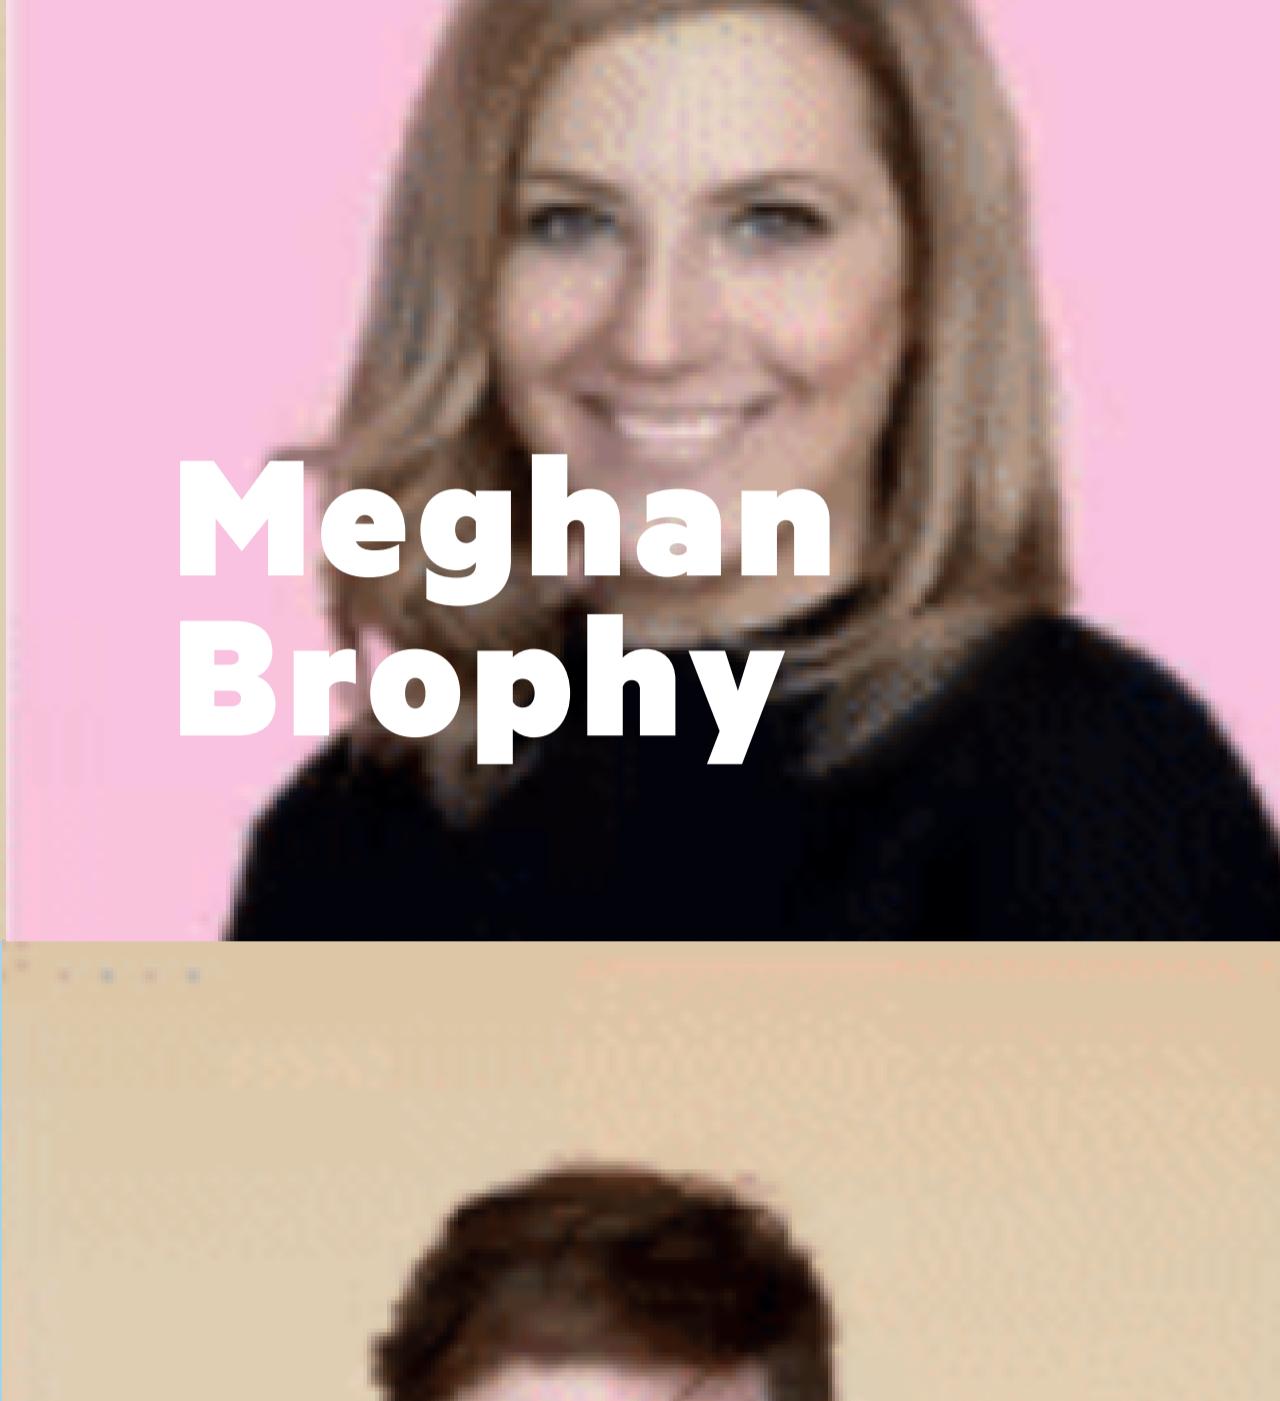

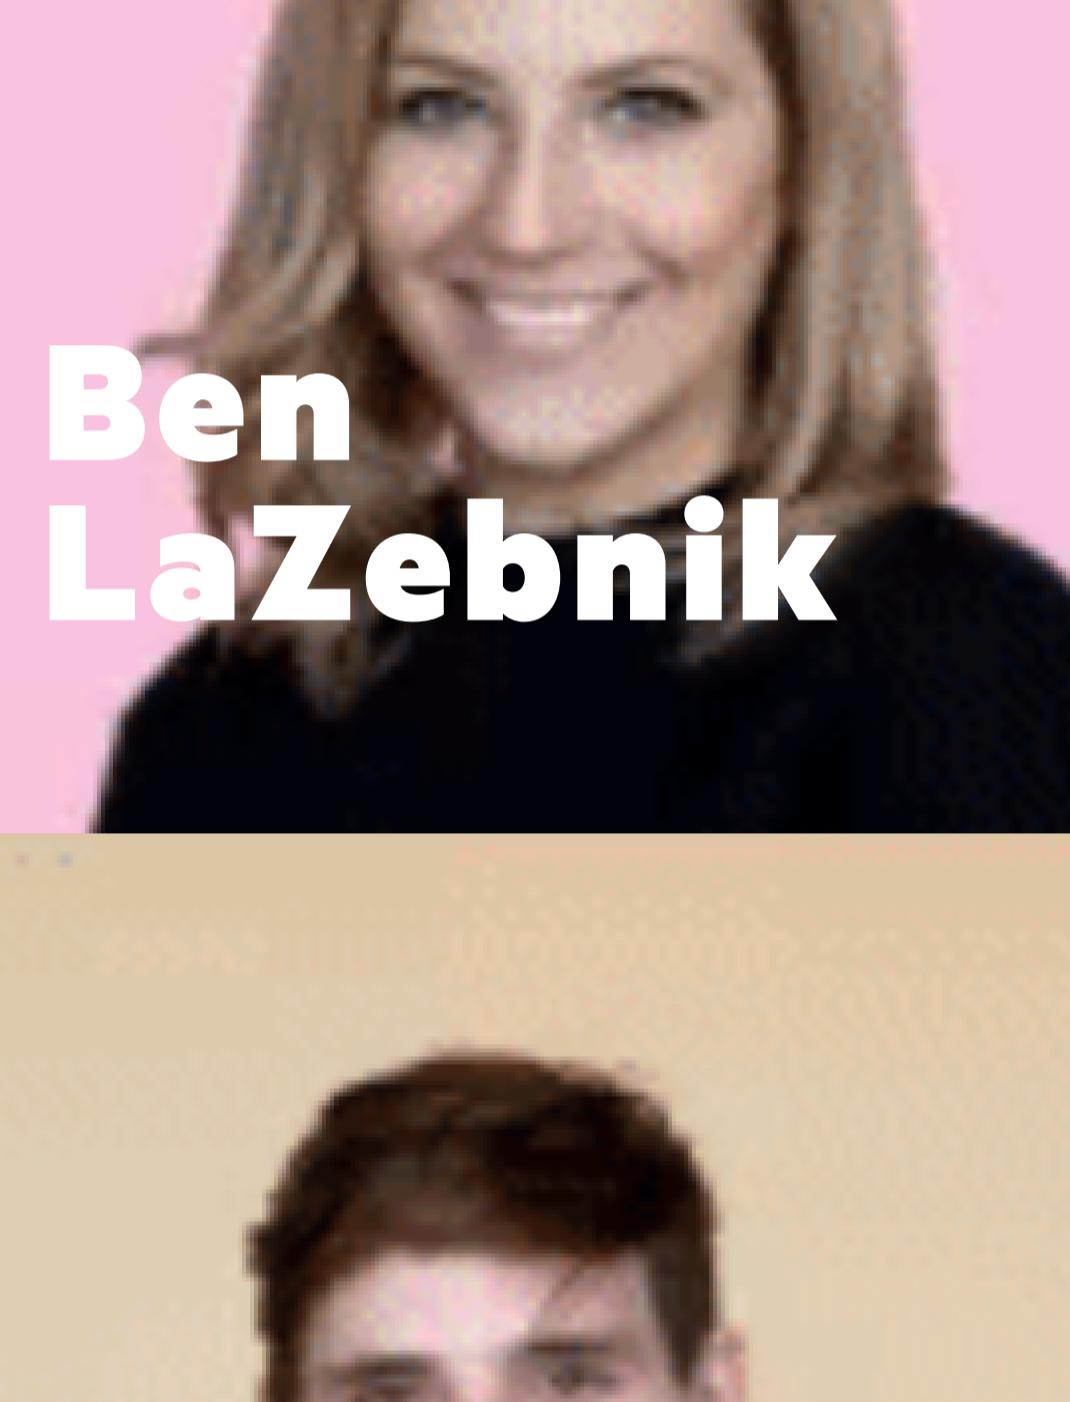

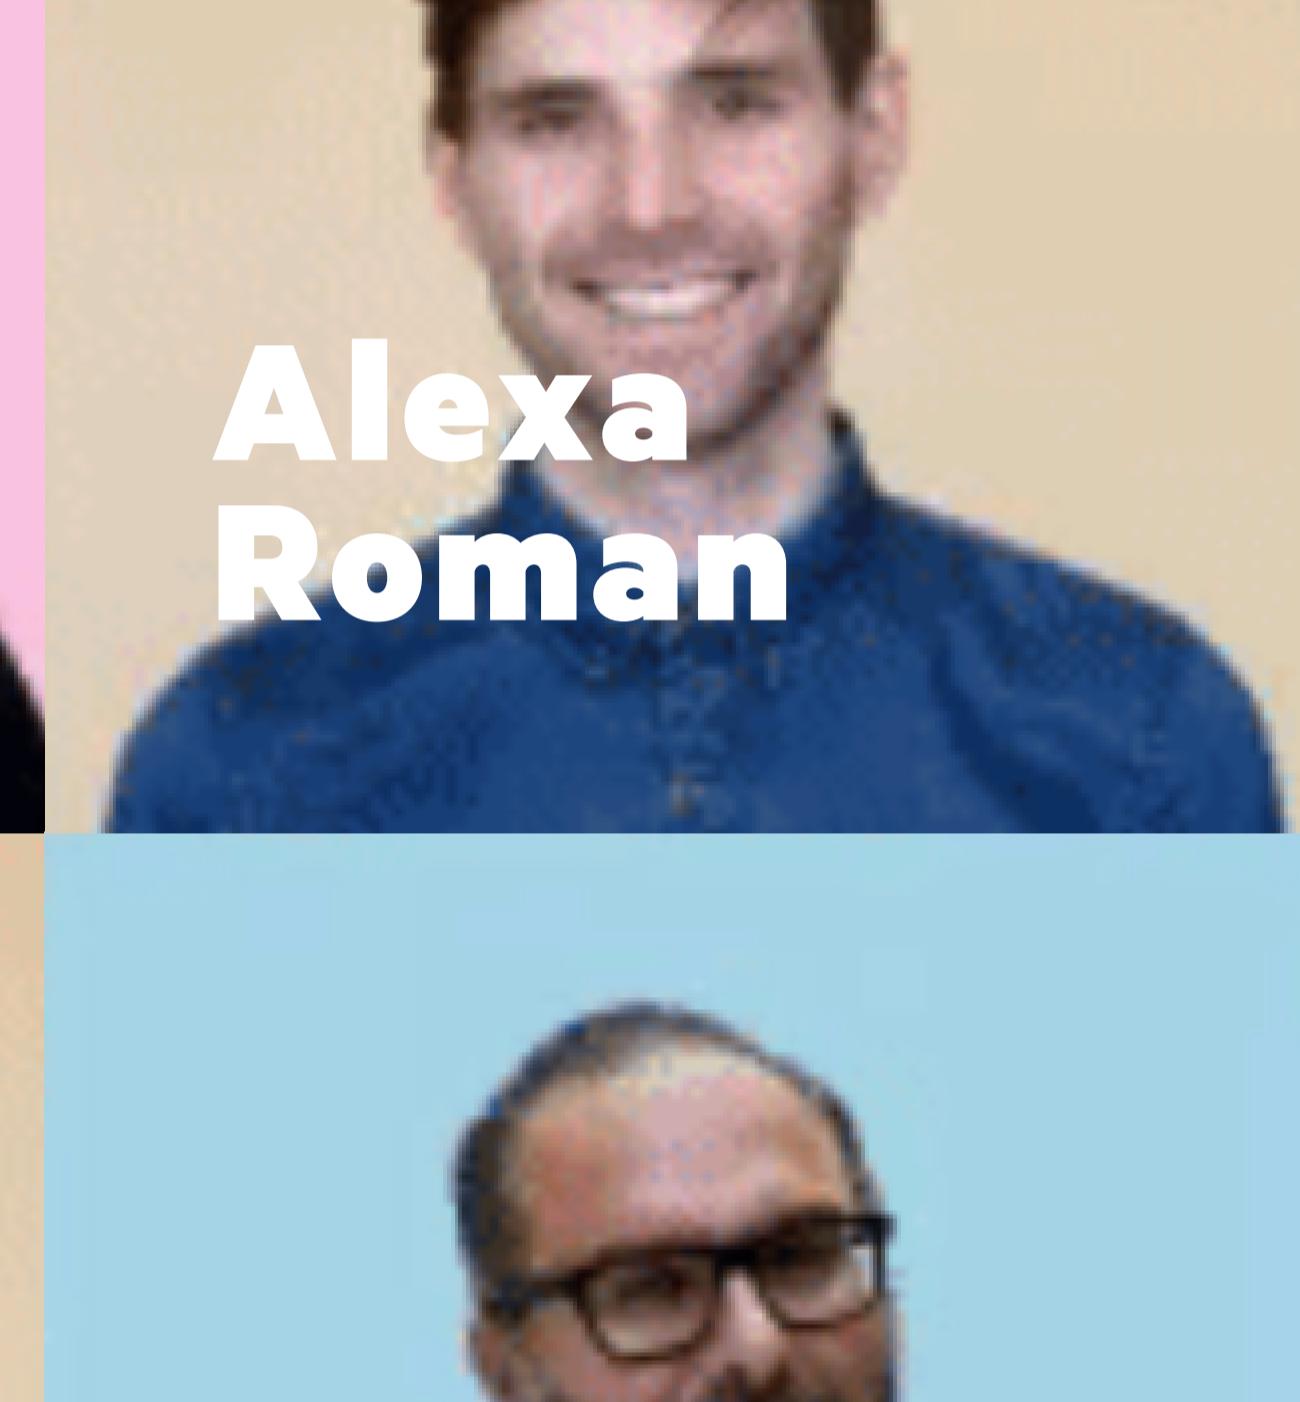

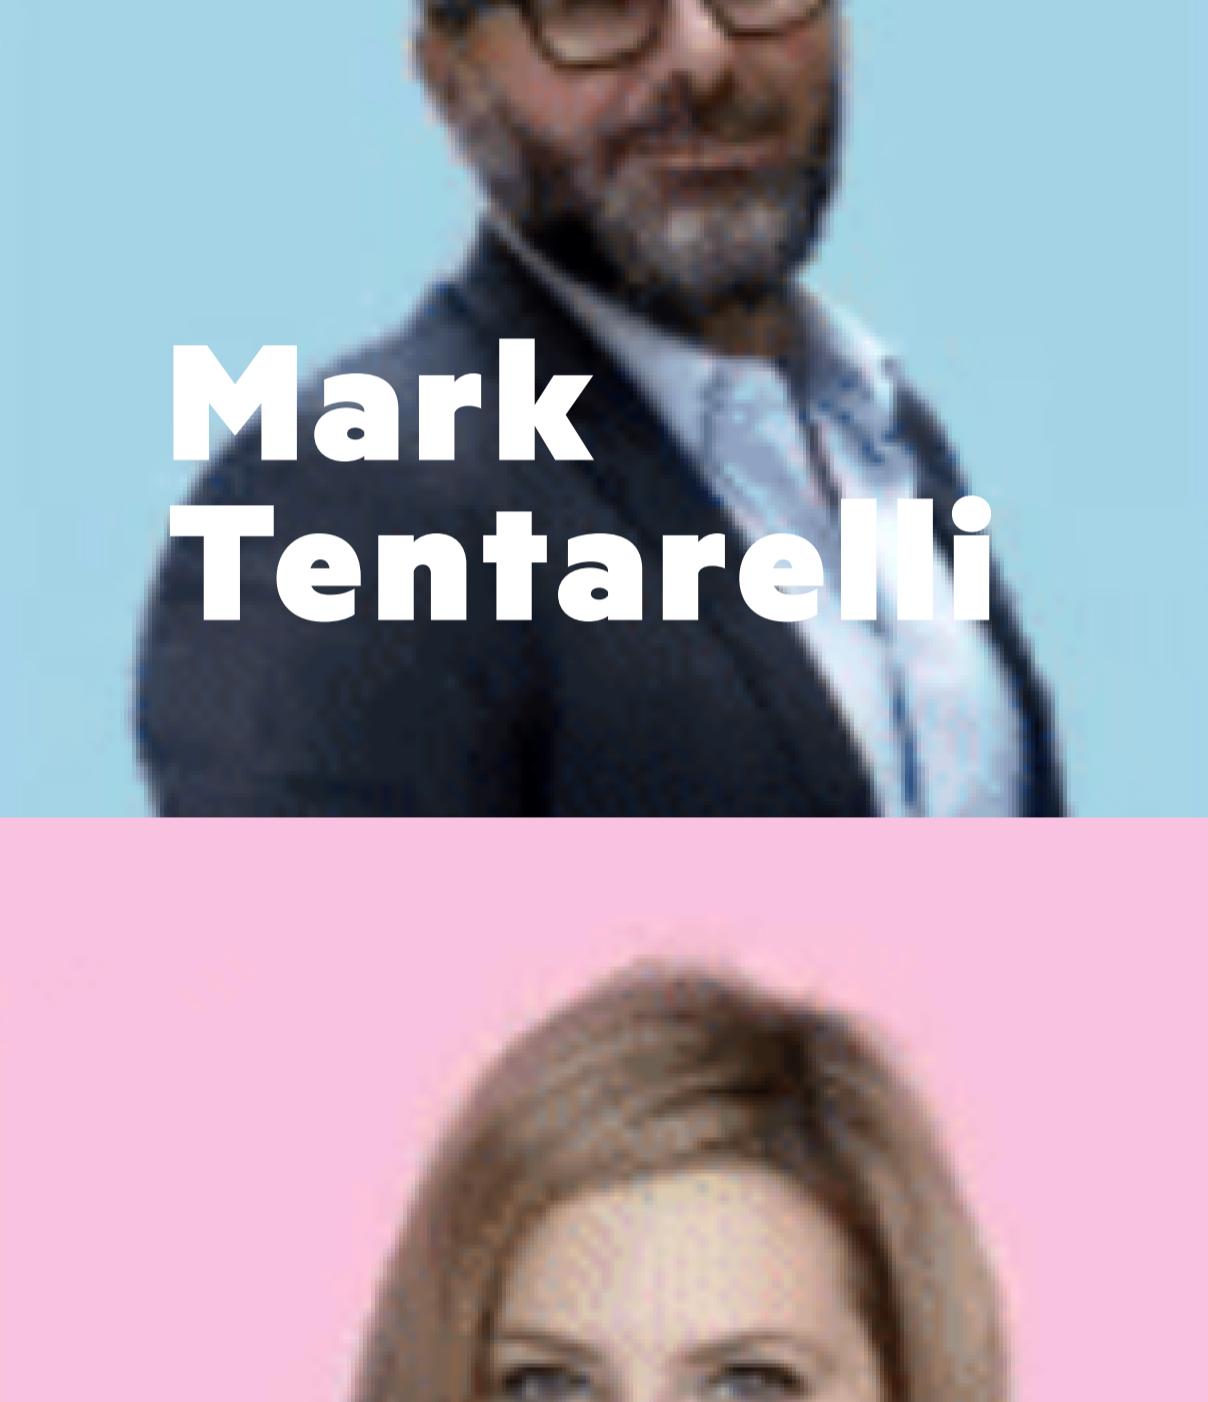

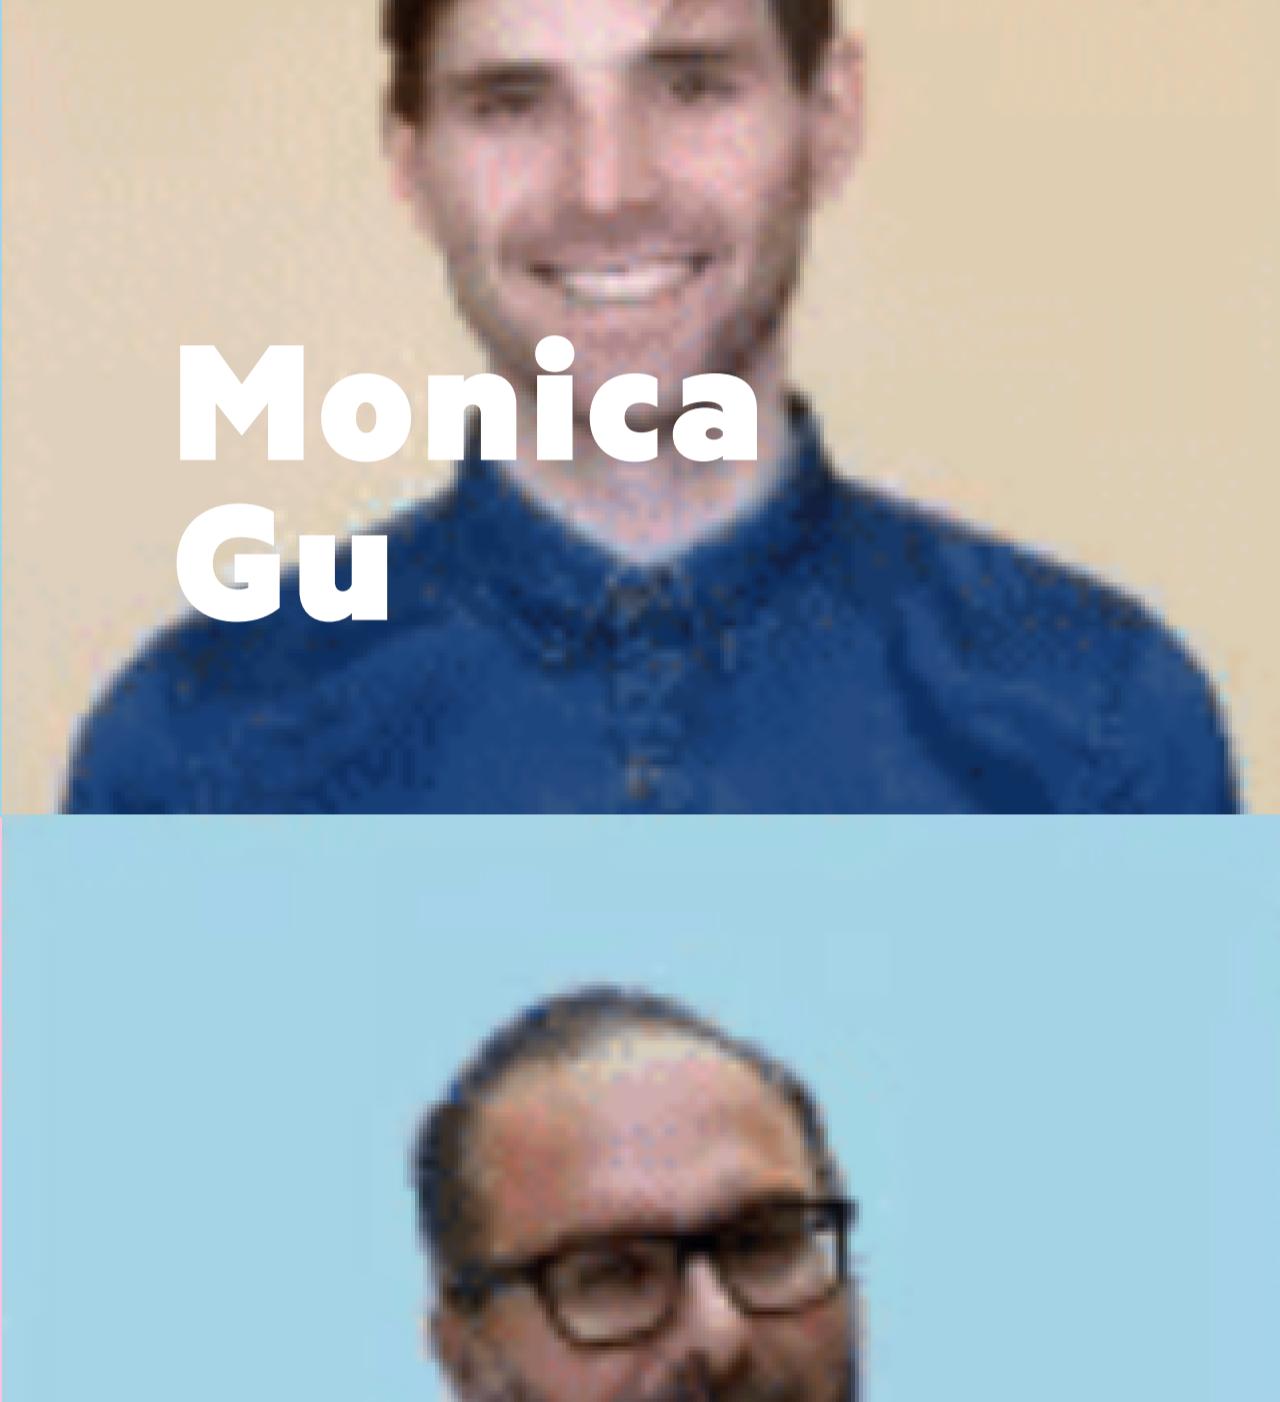

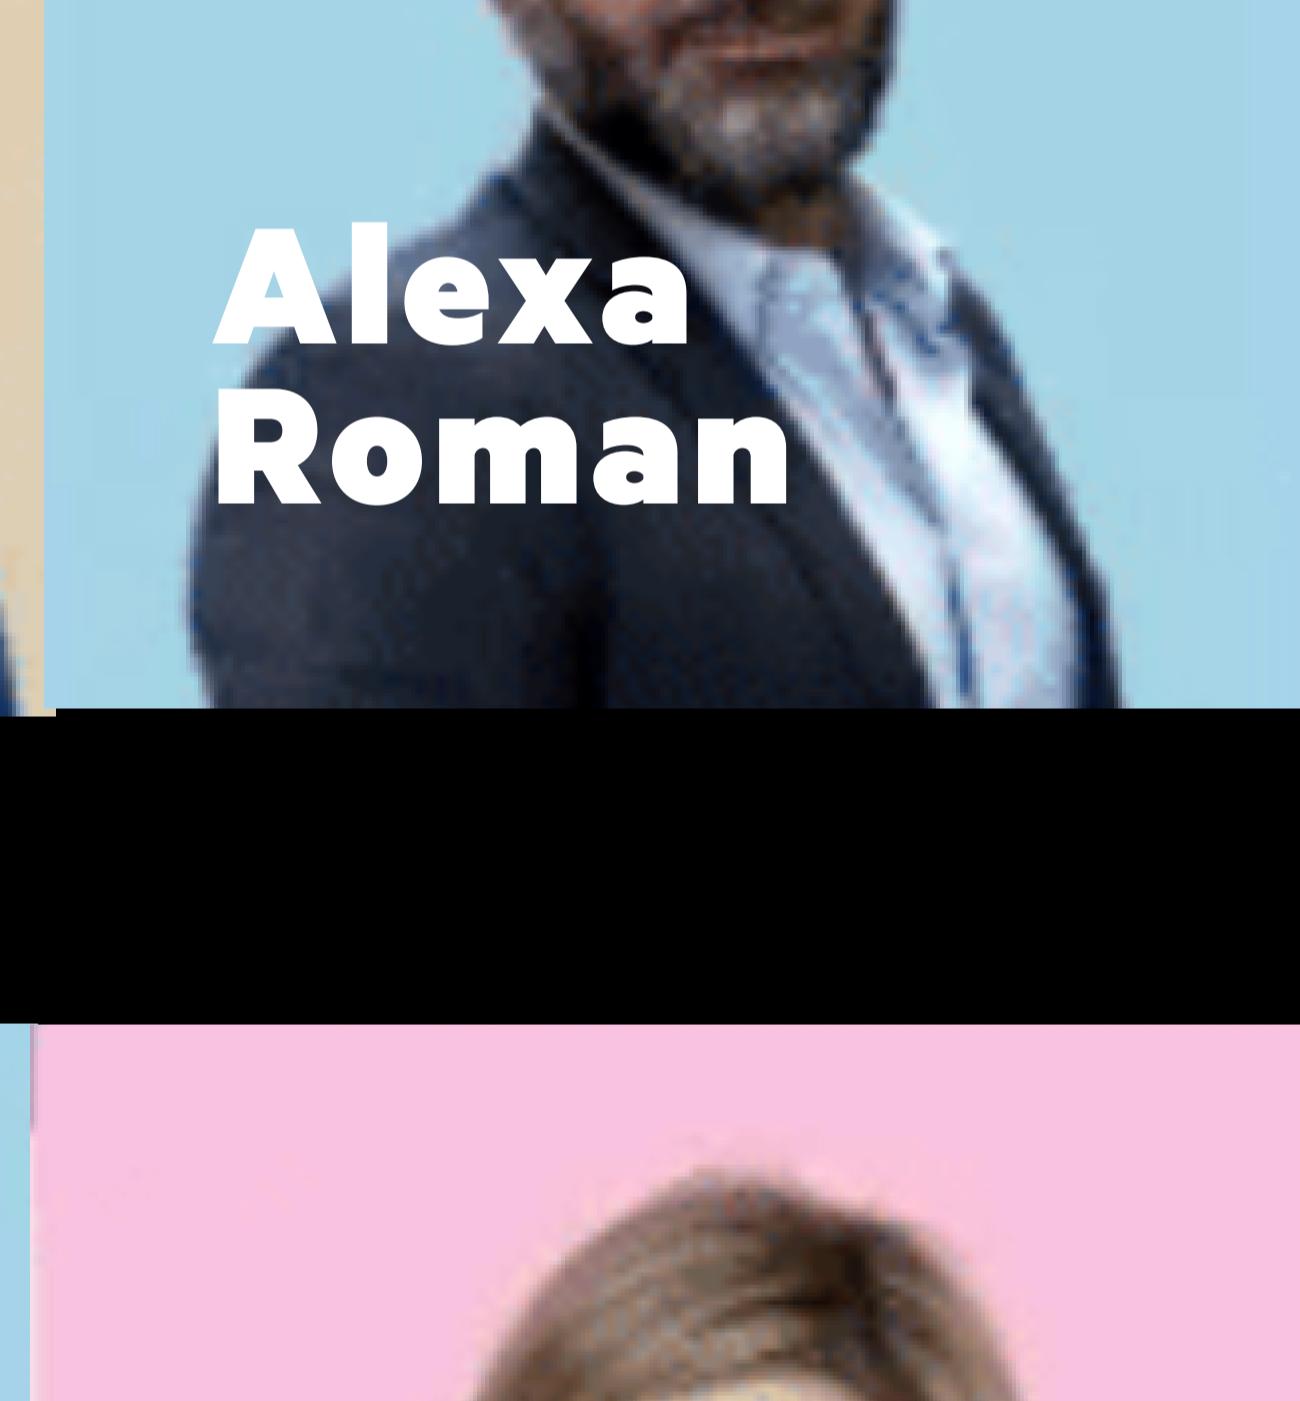

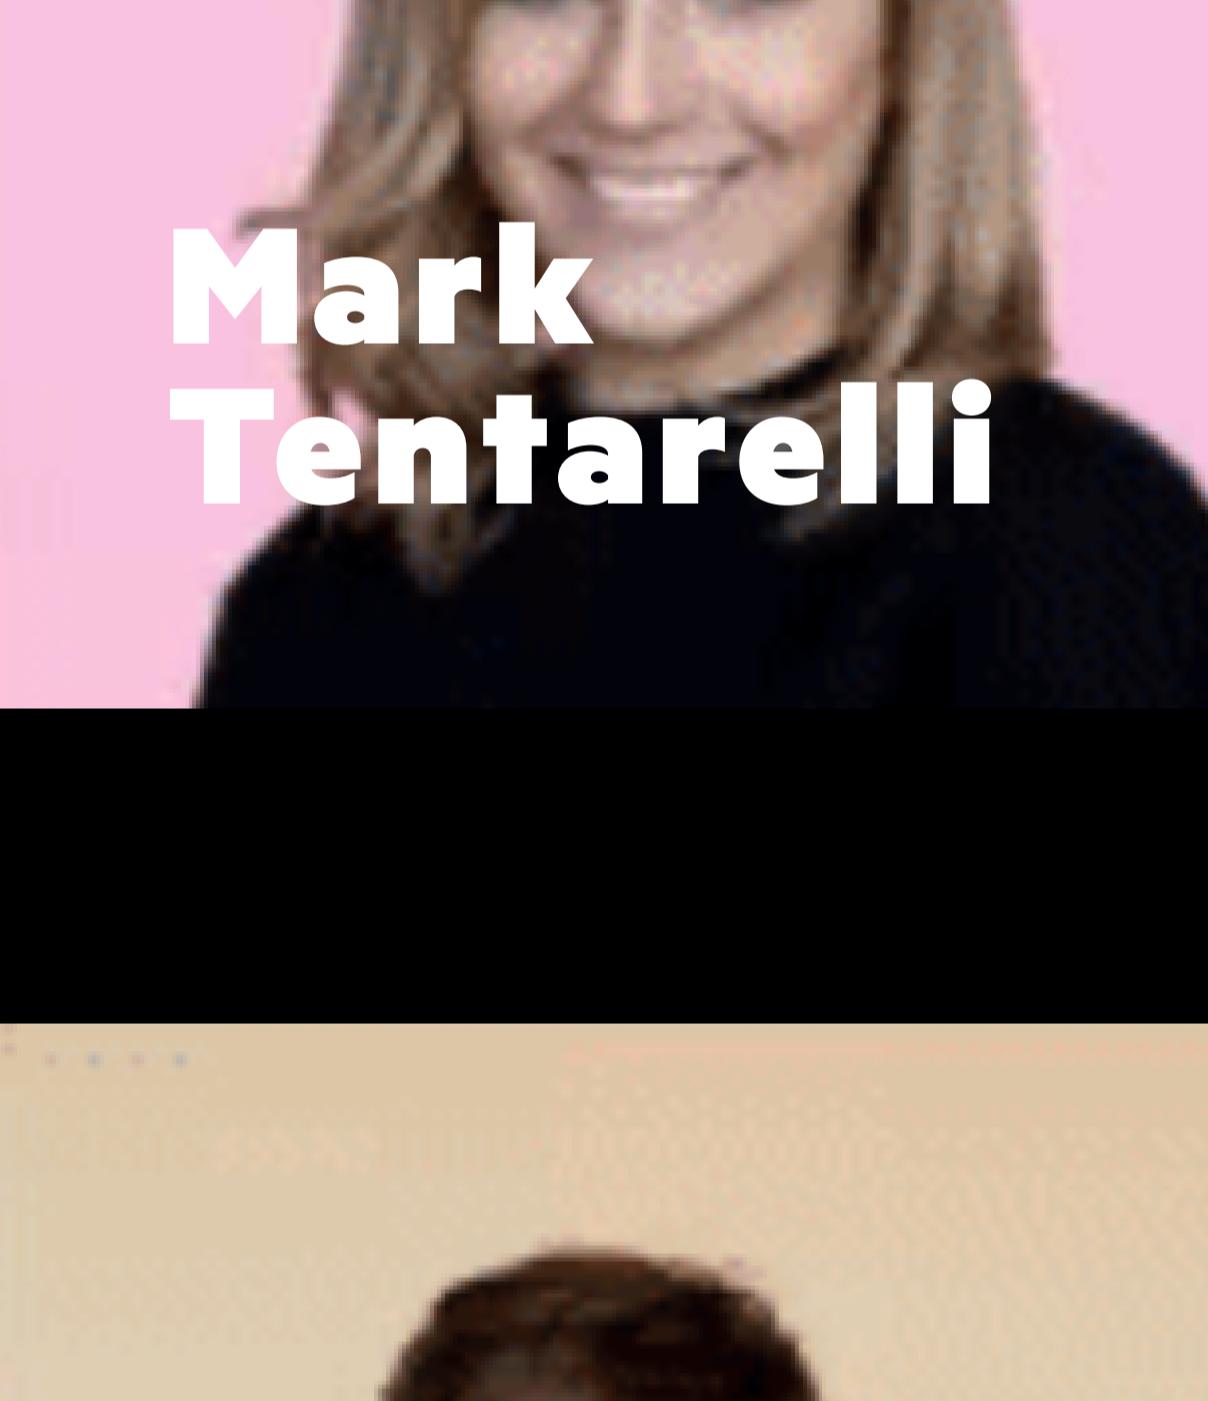

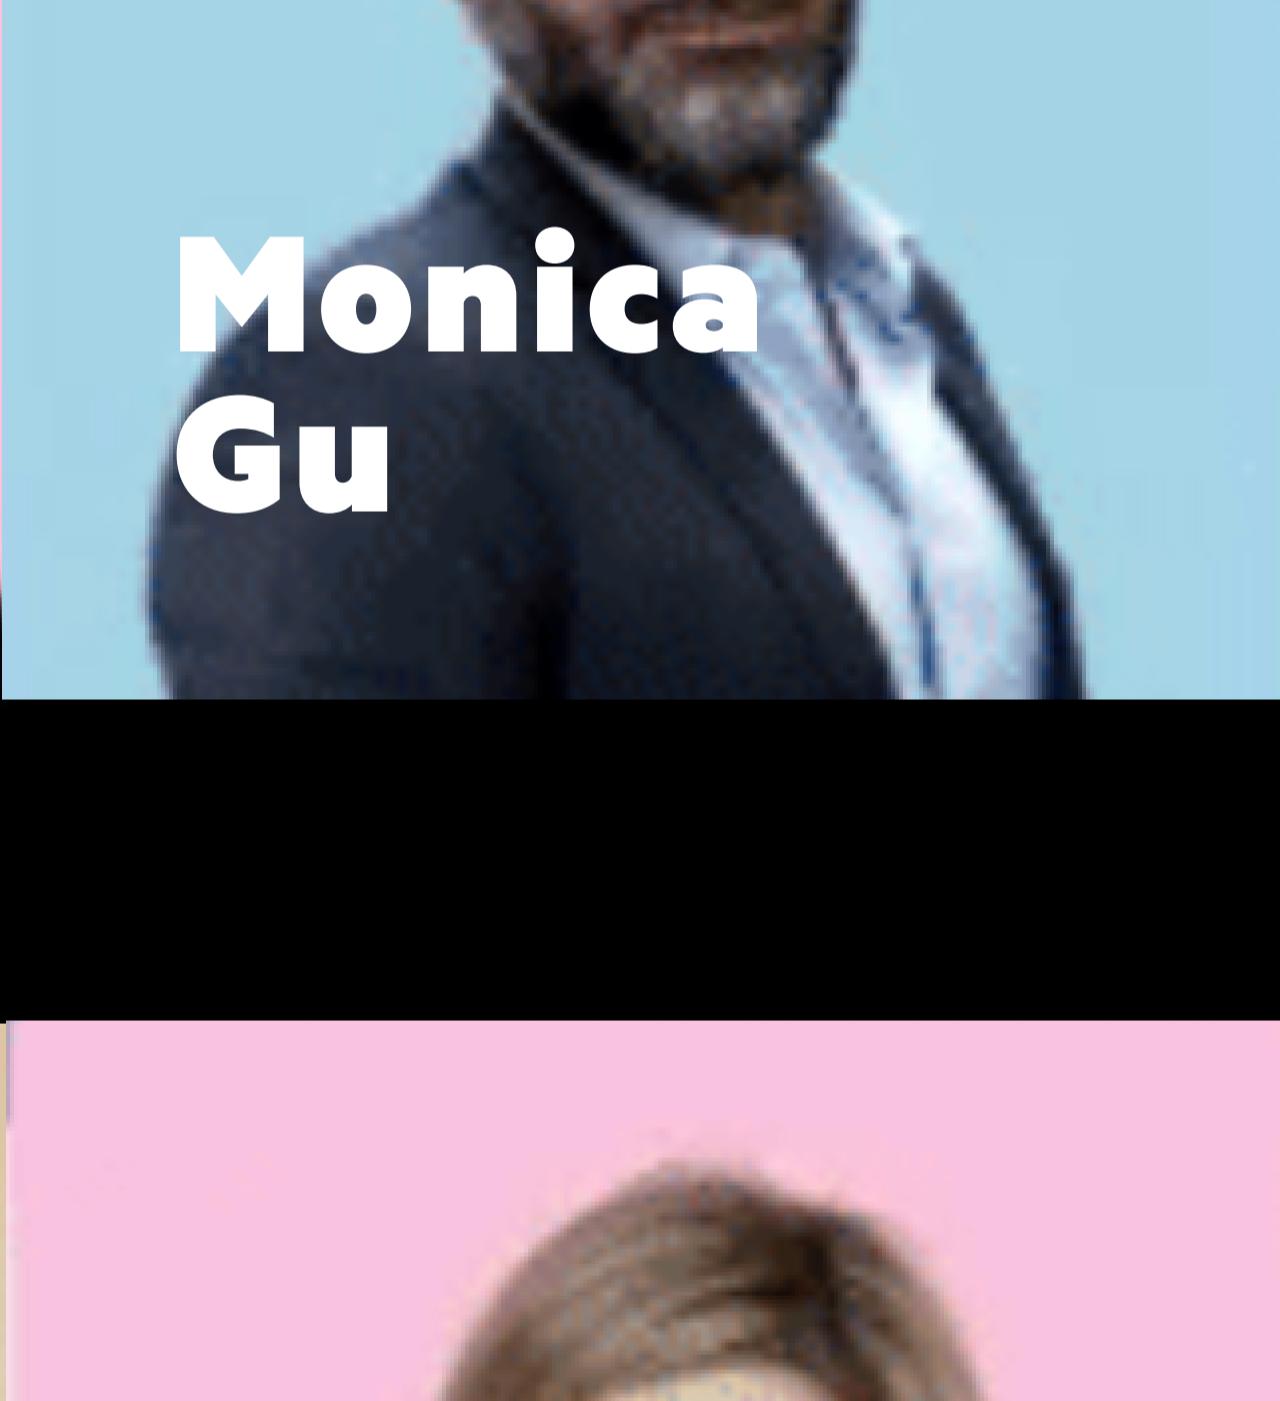

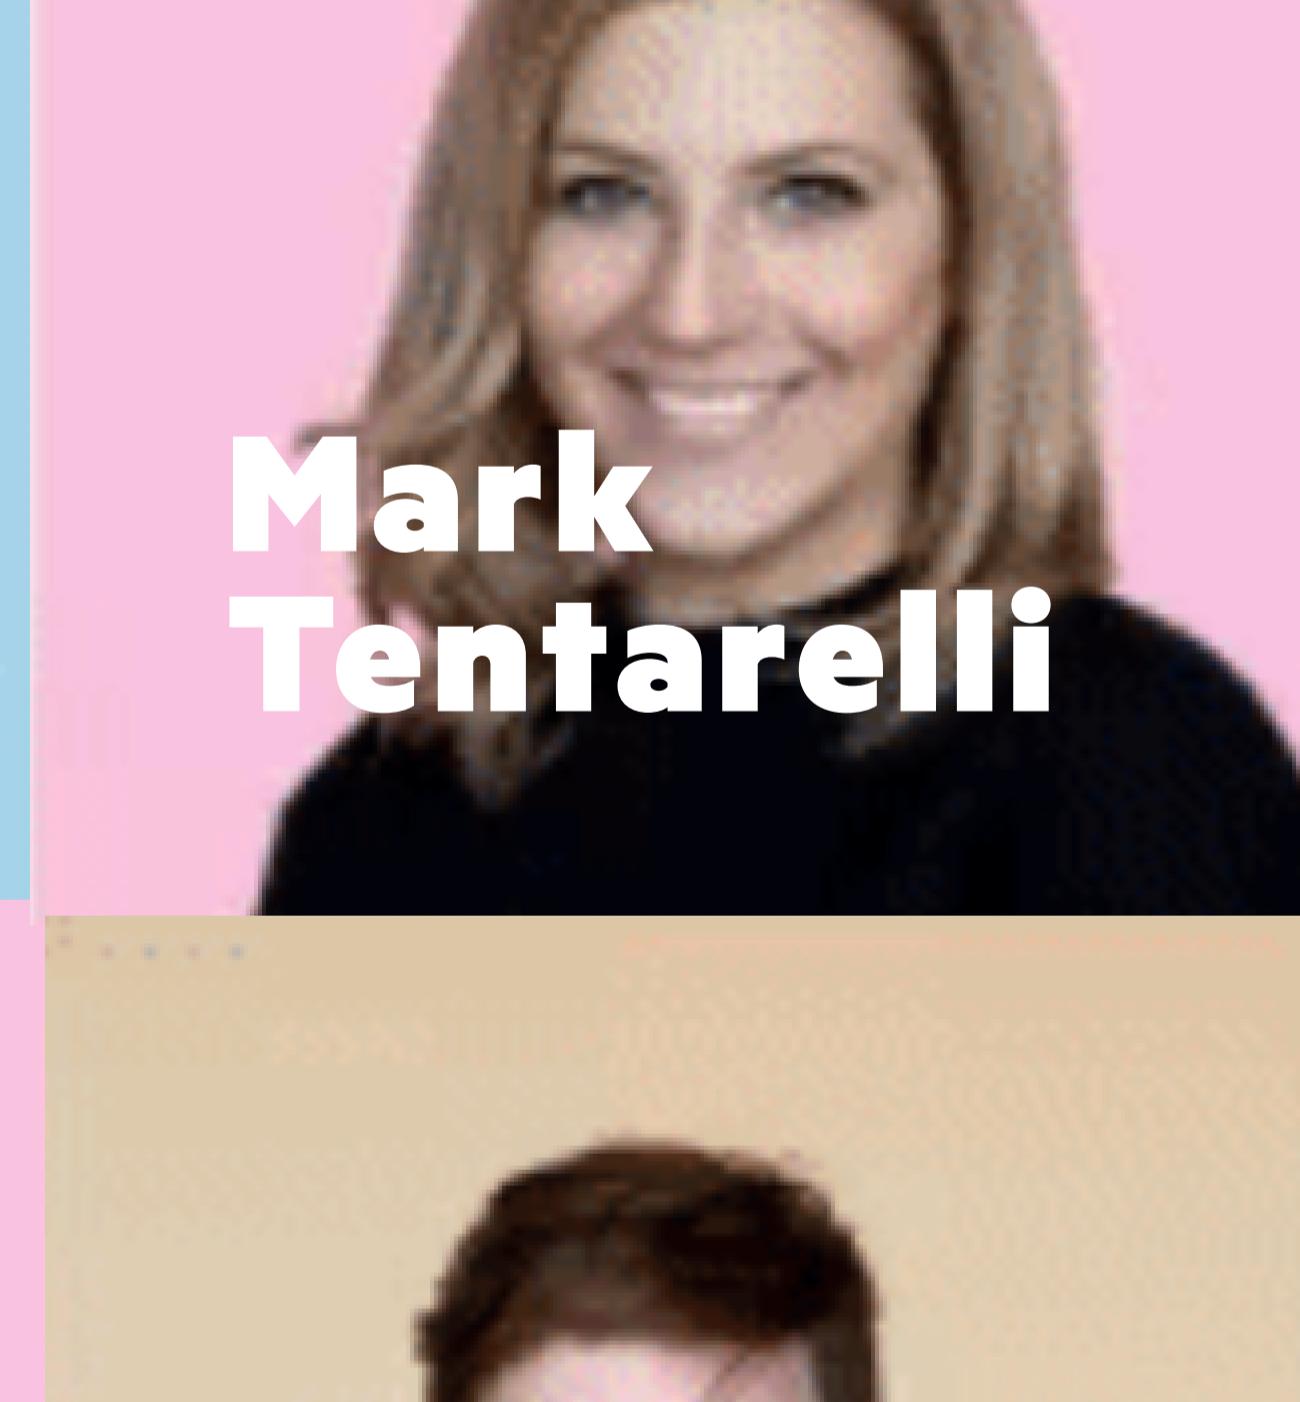

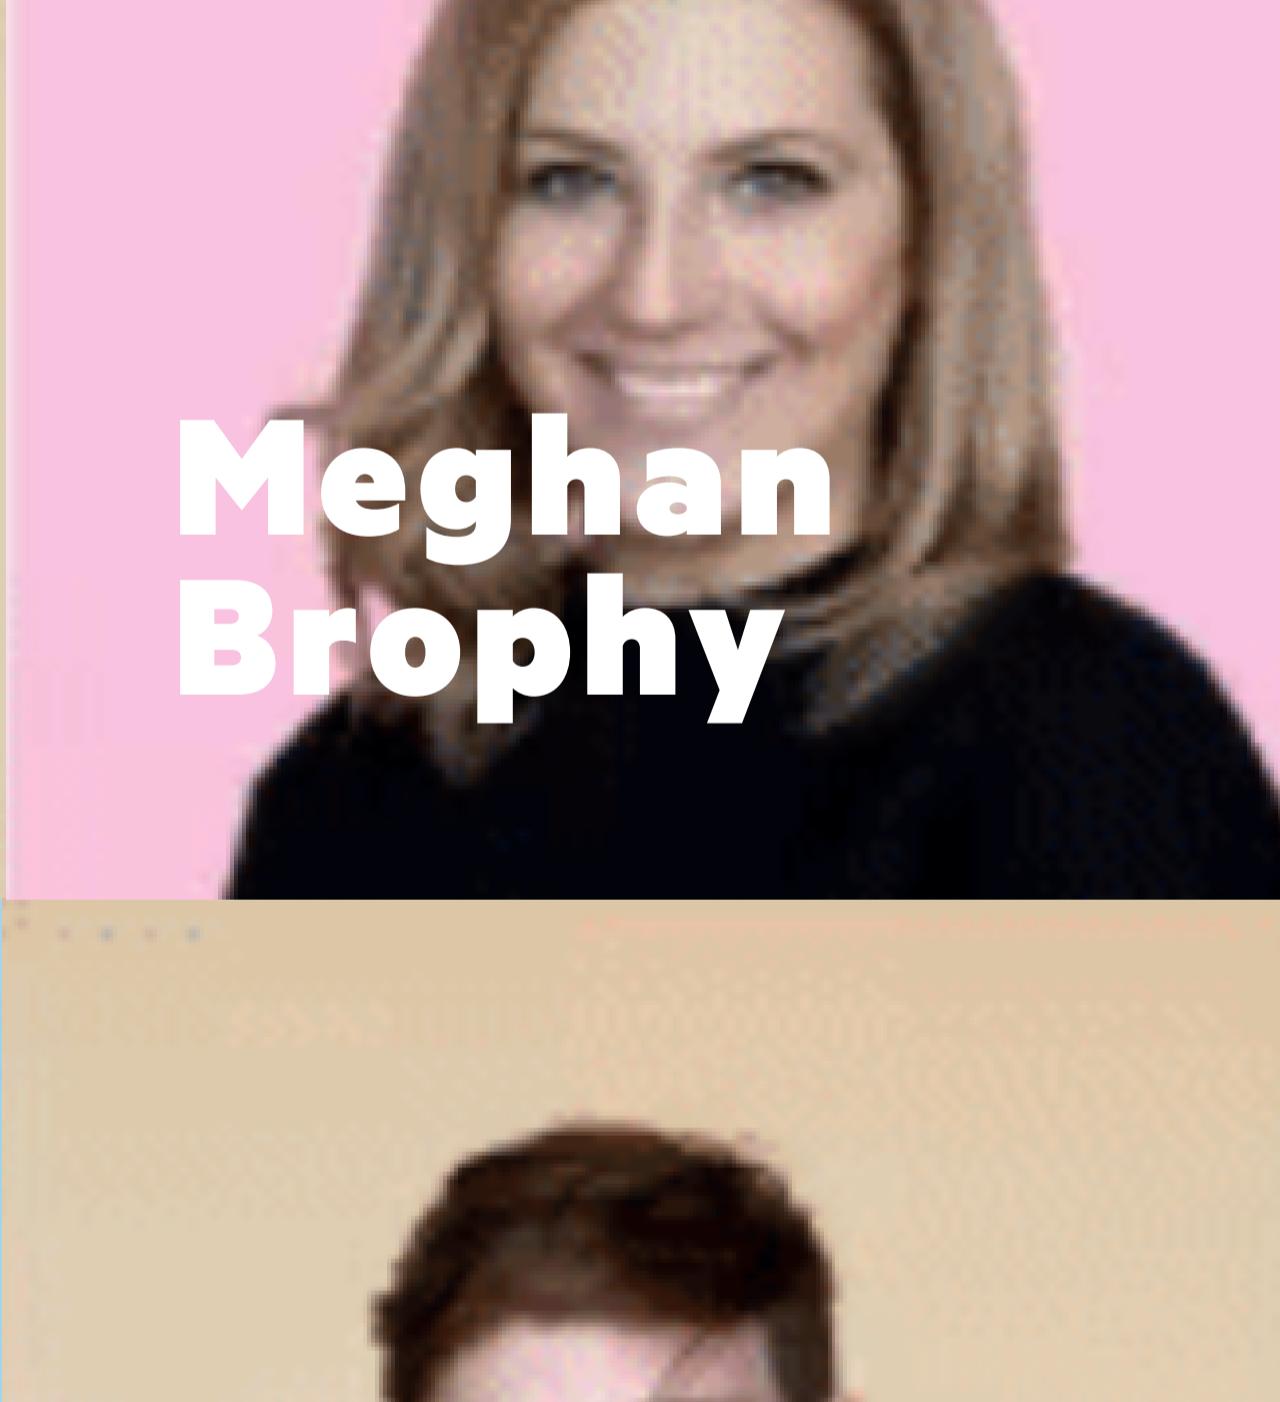

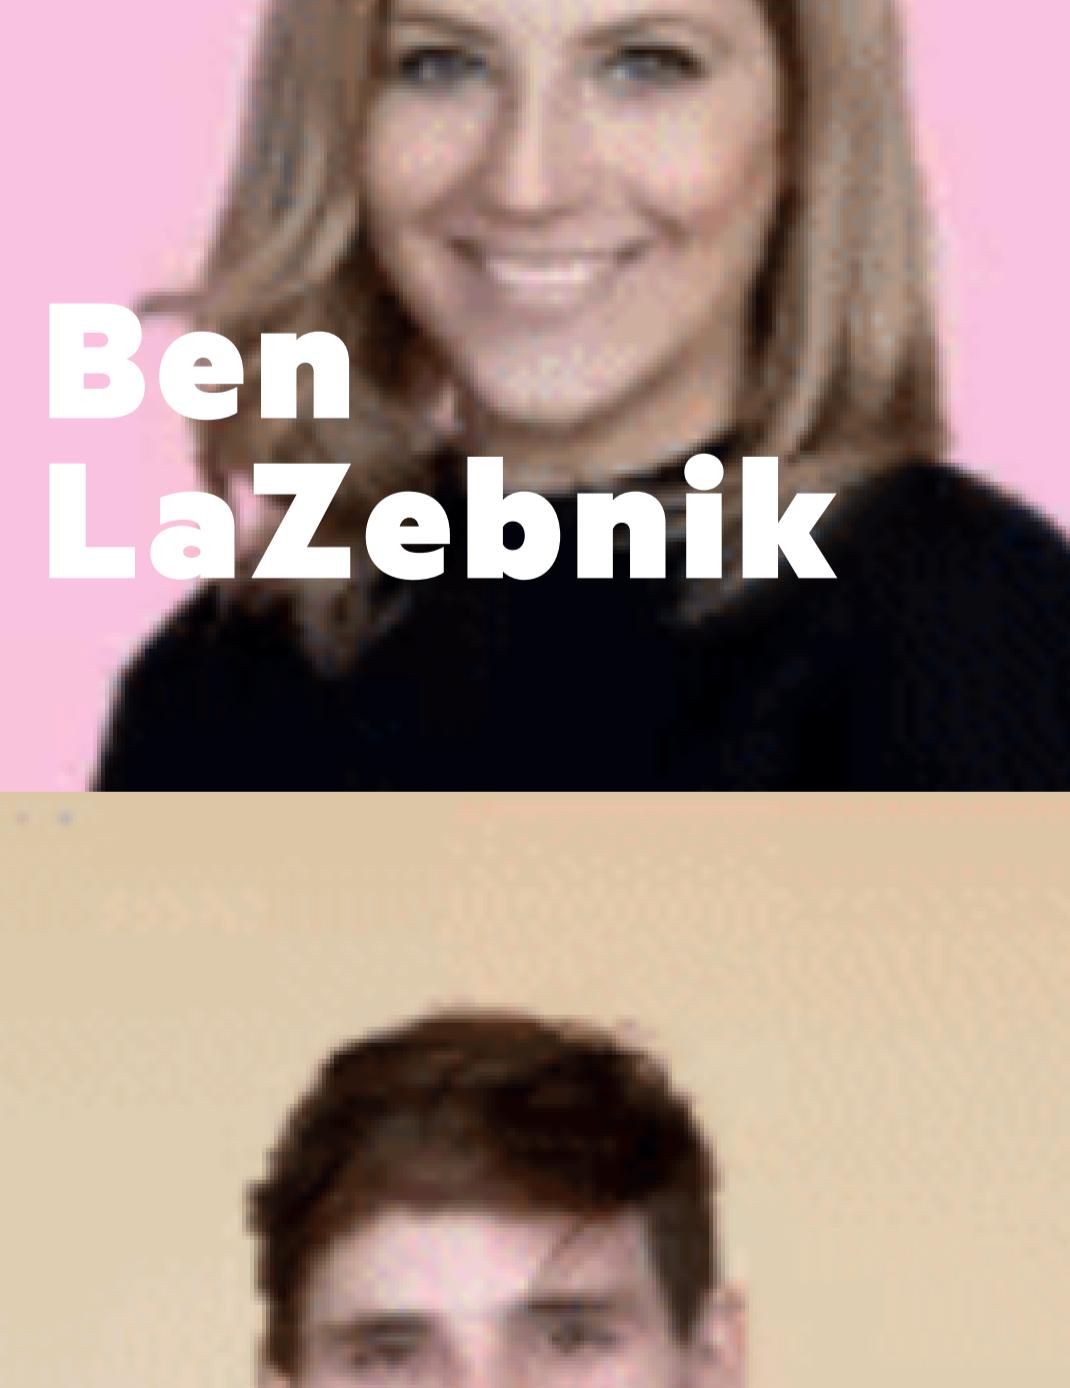

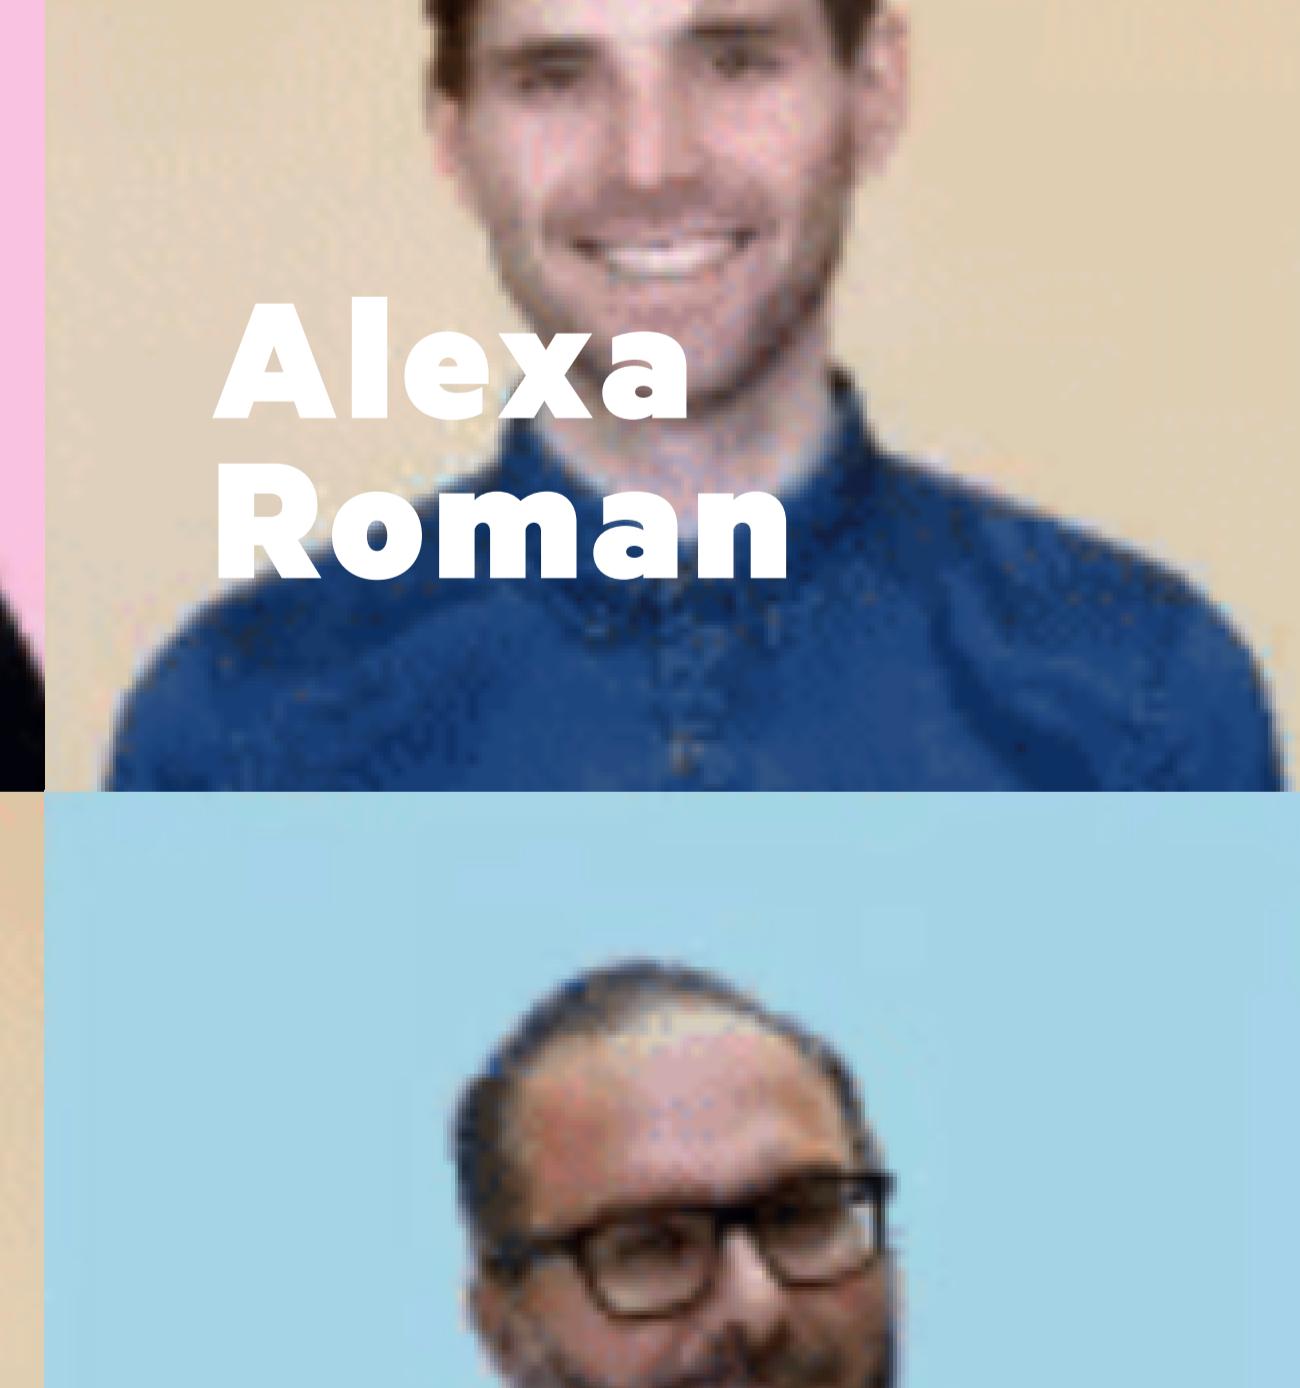

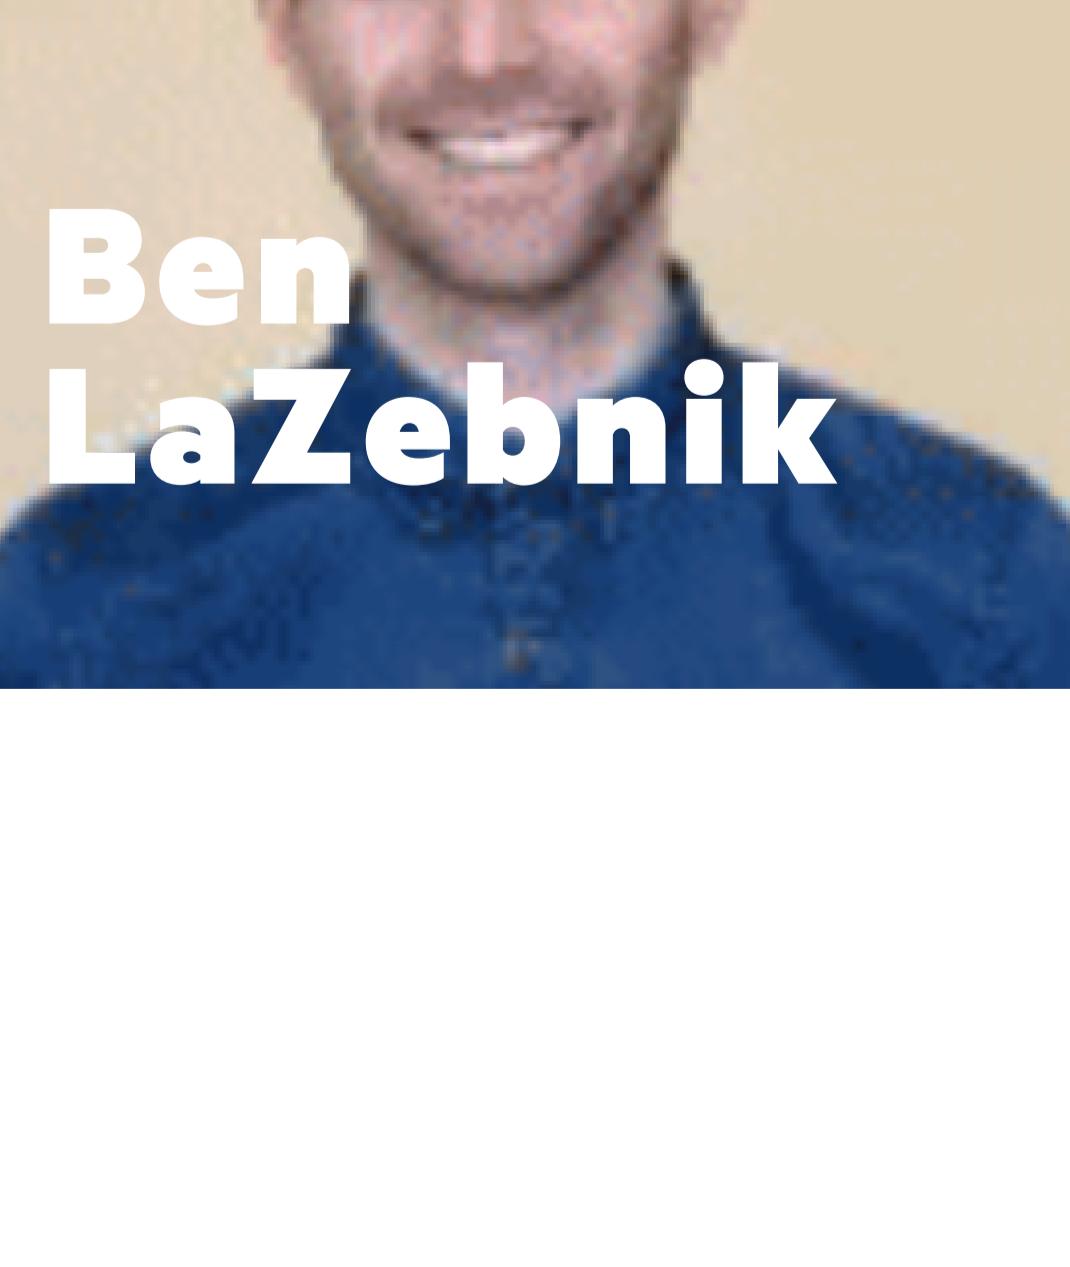

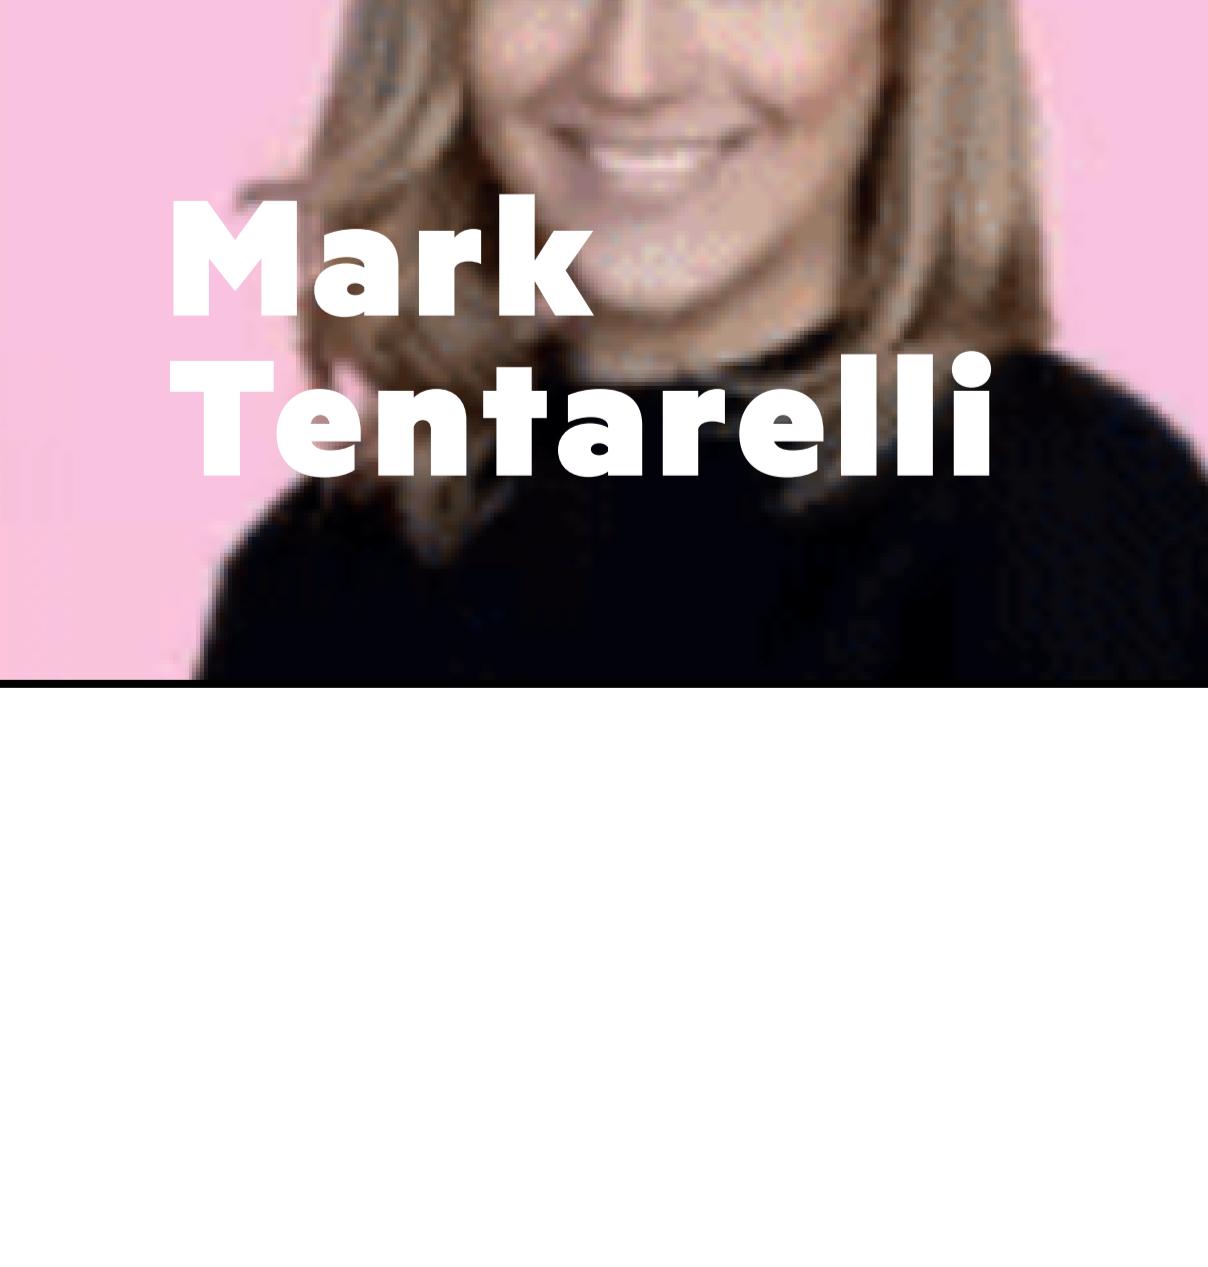

Most undergraduates will only experience a small sliver of Columbia's history during their time here; current students just lived through a year for the record books. As the University marked the fiftieth anniversary of the 1968 protests that redefined its identity, campus was roiled by a new series of student protests.

FALL 2017

AJ
McDougall

Disconnected from death

"Colleges like Columbia—and most of modern society—are wrapped up with the concerns of the physical world, and thus have a tendency to see the end goal as material wealth..."

Sanjay
Paul*Meghan
Brophy*Ben
LaZebnik*Alexa
Roman*Mark
Tentarelli*Monica
Gu*Ben
LaZebnik*Alexa
Roman*Mark
Tentarelli*Monica
Gu*AJ
McDougall*Mark
Tentarelli*Sanjay
Paul*Meghan
Brophy*Ben
LaZebnik*Alexa
Roman*Mark
Tentarelli*Monica
Gu*Ben
LaZebnik*Alexa
Roman*Mark
Tentarelli*Monica
Gu